An Old Man of Eighty Walks from Cleveland to Kings.

KINGSTON, July 6.-P. S. Downer, a hale, cherry, well dressed old man, arrived here Thursday from Cleveland, O., en route to Maine. He walked from Cleveland to this city. He told the fol-

"I was born in Portland, Me., in 1809. When I arrived at manhood I went on the ship James Murray, which was aboutto start for the Arctic on a whaling expedition. That was in 1833. After an an absence of nearly three years. we were wrecked near Manila, one of the Philippine islands. We were picked up by a passing vessel and landed safely at Manila. Here I remained three months, when I secured a berth on the brig Cayuga, a smuggler, on which I made three voyages-one to the Spanish main, one to China and the other to Japan. In China, in 1837, I left the Cayuga and acted as bookkeeper there for two years in a store. In 1839 I

"Later on I joined the United States navy. During the Mexican war I was on the frigate Savannah, being one of 300 volunteers who responded to the call for help. I participated in the bomfor help. I participated in the bom-bardment of Vera Oruz and was present at the final surrender in the city of Mex-ico. After this war I came back to this country and again boarded a merchant snip, the George Washington. We were wreeked in the Indian ocean and were carried to Rio Janeiro by a French freighter. We were told that yellow fever prevailed at Rio Janeira at that time, and the American consul there advised to the return home. This we decided to us to return home. This we decided to do, and soon found employment on a ship at the enormous salary of $100 per month. It seemed strange that the skipper wanted to pay such large salaries, and not until we were far out to sea did we learn that we had boarded a slave ship. There were 1,703 slave on board, and all were taken to Cuba, where I was

SPECULATION ON NEXT MON-DAY'S FIGHT.

Kilrain's Friends Rely on the "Big Man" Not Boing as Good as in Former Years-The Fighters Have Comfortable Quarters in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, July 6 .- The arrival of Sallivan and the enthusiasm exhibited by his friends in this city has in nowise dampened the ardor of the friends of Kilcain and, instead of detracting from have increased them. It is a noticeable fact that while the central portions of Sullivan, the upper sections of the city are largely in favor of Kilrain. A visit was paid to the rooms of the Southern Athletic club and quite a number of the members were found, all of whom expressed themselves as confident of Kiltain's success, in the forthcoming battle. McHale, who is matched to fight Duffy on Sunday next, was seen at the gymnasium. He said that, in his opinion, Kilrain would be the winner, although he had seen neither men. The basis of his opinion is on newspaper accounts of the two men, which, if true, and he had every reason to believe they were so, would make Kilrain a sure winner. He said, further, that as regarded New York harbor. Then I entered the merchant marins service, going up the Mediterranean straits to Liverpool, London, etc., I remained in that service five years.

"Later on Livery 1 the true the true odds offered in bets which had been made that it was negarded negarded made that it was negarded negarded made that it was negarded ne that Sullivan was Lot in the trim that he could stand but little of any punishment about the heart or structure. He would not, of course, like to: Teven on the result, though he felt are that Kilrain would come off the victor, but he thought $100 to $30 fair odds on Sollivan and would not hesitate to take such odds when the proper time came. Other members of the clab, in support of their opinion, said that men like Billy Madden, Arthur Chambers and Dominick McCaffrey, all of whom knew both men well would not be whom knew both men well, would not be found on the side of Kilrain if they did not know what they were doing. Both Madden and Chambers were with Sulli-Madden and Chambers were with Sullivan in the fight with Ryan and McCaffrey fought six rounds with him when he was supposed to be in his best days and they surely do not; underrate Sullivan. According to reports received Sullivan has not near the wind that Kilrain has and is, besides, entirely too heavy about the hips. Professor Dennis Butler, also a firm friend of the Baltimore boy, last evening received a telegram from Kilrain saying that he would be in the city at about 11 o'clock Saturday forenoor. His friend is confident of him winning the fight, he said and he had all faith in Kilrain's prowess. The train on which Kilrain will he will arrive will be met at a point outside of the city, as was the Sullivan train and John L. No one was admitted to see him work but half a dozen friends who accompanied him from New York and the Associated press reporter a foot ball filled with flour or meal, and weighing about twenty-five pounds, was tossed from Sullivan to Muldoon and then tack again, a distance of twenty-five feet. The pet of Boston delivered and received a heavy ball for forty minutes without betraying any signs of weakness. Neither Muldoon or Cleary could stand the test of endurance, so they alternated, taking ten minutes of work each while Sullivan finished as fresh as a daisy after a long steady stand against a daisy after a long steady stand against both of them. Those who saw Sullivan hurl that ball with one band with the velocity and force that made Muldoon stagger as he received it were reminded of the John L. Week. New Yorn, July 6.—The business outlook for the balance of the year is full of promise and very hopeful. The failures during the past six months numbered 5,603, as compared with 5,189 for the same period in 1888. Still the liabilities in the first case were $65,828,853, and in the year previous $68,114,159, showing a decrease in liabilities of $2,285,306.

The crop expectations at this time are up to the average, and generally favora-ble. The Dun report notices that the staple farm product of this sea-son, wool, is moving freely at from 10 to 15 per cent, higher than last year. IS DEATH ABOLISHED?

THE ELIXIR OF LIFE DIS-COVERED.

Dr. Brown-Sequard Claims to Have Found it-He Has Tried it and Says He Has Gained a Ten Years Lease of

New York, July 6.—The medical world is excited by the statement of Dr. Brown-Sequard, the great French specialist in nervous diseases, who declared before the Biological society of Paris, of which he is the president, that after twenty years of experimenting he had discovered a true elixir of life, a substance that would rejuvenate the old and make strong the feeble. He contended that if the living cells of a young and vigorous being could be injected into another where the vital apark was low his organism must vibrate in unison with the fresh life. Many years ago the doctor advanced views of the same character in a lecture before the medical faculty of Paris, and has since been engaged in experimenting on the subject by treating old and worn-out animals. Finally, as he states, he reached such perfection that he tried his clixir upon himself with startling results.

The doctor is now 72 years old, and presmably is subject to the weaknesses and infirmities of age. His revitalizing substance, he explained, was derived from certain organs or glands taken, still quivering, from live animals and reduosd at once to a pulp in a mortar with distilled water. From this compound he extracts an essence which he uses as a hypodermic injection.

The doctor administered to himself a onbio centimetre with a hypodermic syringe, just as morphine is injected. He declares that the day following this ex-periment, after two injections of this vital essence, he felt himself transformed. Up to that time, half an hour's work, standing up in his laboratory, exhausted him. Now he declares he can study three hours uninterruptedly without the least repose. His appetite has increased, his sleep is sweet and refreshing, his stomach performs its functions admirably and his intellectual labor is performed with wonderful case and clearness. His feelings, also, have been youthful. Dr. Brown-Sequard declared that the dock has been took and the statement of the

that the dose he took was equivalent to ten years' rejuvenation.

Medical men in New York are skeptical about the doctor's alleged discovery and smile incredulously when asked what they they think of it. While they admit that all things are possible, they are far from ready to give credence to the story as it comes from France or to goest the as it comes from France or to accept the

Mrs. L. Dunbar:
Mrs. Jac Shaggar

The ladies of the Union would be very glad to find homes for two very bright and interesting little girls, aged 8 and 5 years. The mother is very sick, and with no expectations of getting well, which will leave the little ones alone in the world. Cannot there be found in all this large and busy city some "childress home" that would welcome these little homeless waifs, remembering that our Saviour has said, "Inasmuch as ve have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethreu, ye have done it unto Me." A. F. KEITH, Sec.
